STAGE STORIES.

Amusement Announcements, Lobby Chat-ter.—Odd Bits of Gossip.

Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott come to the Lexington Opera House on Monday, October 29th, in their latest success, "When We Were Twenty-one." The sale of seats will begin on Friday, Oct. 26th.

Roland Reed is in a critical condition from stomach trouble, in a New York hospital.

HARRY WARD'S MINSTRELS.

Once again Harry Ward has hung his banners on the outer walls announcing the coming of his troupe of merry minstrels. The company this year is large and expensive.

The company played to a large audience last season and will no doubt play to a packed house on this visit. The company comes on Monday night, and just after dinner will give a parade with a grand concert on the court house square. Seats go on sale this morning at Brooks' drug store.

To-night at the Paris Grand Opera House will be the scene of fun and merriment, when Murray and Mack will offer their famous farce comedy, "Finnigan's Ball." The piece is of the farce-comedy school, pure and simple, made up of amusing situation, comical climaxes, witty lines, catchy music and rapid actions, and will be presented with perhaps, the most meritorious company that ever was engaged to produce this merry "skit."

The Schumann Concert Co. pleased a large audience Wednesday night at the Grand with a well selected program. Miss Adams, cellist, Miss Tarrant, harpist, Miss Caborn, soprano, each won hearty encores, and Miss Bolckom, reader, was also popular with the audience, making an especial hit in reciting a burlesque Kentucky.

I have a few good buggies yet on hand which I close out at cost.
